Shirt for Shirt

You Buy.  We Give.

THE STORY OF US

Thread Society was founded by two longtime friends who appreciate high quality apparel, but were shocked by the overly inflated prices at retail stores. The question they both asked themselves was, why should a simple t-shirt cost $30? And, why should a hoodie cost $100?

It shouldn't. The difference between retail prices and the cost to manufacture the goods is so large, simply by eliminating overhead costs and selling direct, we are able to drastically lower the cost of our apparel while simultaneously giving back to children in need with our Shirt for Shirt Program.

MEET THE FOUNDERS

Michael Jared, with over 10 years of personal experience in the apparel industry and a family with over 65 years of combined experience in the clothing and manufacturing industry, brings the quality of materials you come to expect from premium retail stores with extremely affordable price points.

Brandon Levithan, with a major in finance and a history of volunteering in various ways to help the community, Brandon's enthusiasm for giving back is essential to the program. Brandon's efforts include sponsoring Central American children, volunteering time to local nursing homes, and spending his free time sharing his love and expertise of running by teaching aspiring athletes at middle schools and high schools in the Philadelphia Area.

ABOUT THE MISSION

Threadsociety delivers premium quality apparel at affordable prices, while simultaneously giving back to children who can use a helping hand.

HOW IT'S DONE

Let's begin with what the other guys charge. Your favorite retailers charge $20, $30, even $40 for a t-shirt! The reality is a majority of that price is marked up to cover the hefty overhead costs of running a retail storefront. As you know, rent, utilities, television campaigns, and labor expenses do not come cheap and must be passed onto the consumer. Our model allows you to save big bucks without sacrificing an ounce of quality. The solution became clear: we threw the retail model out the window and the cost to the consumer drops dramatically. Everyone knows, buying direct is the most efficient way of shopping. Besides, what retail store has nearly every size and color imaginable?

At Thread Society, we keep everyday prices low for our loyal "Threadheads" like you. And no, it's not too much to ask, that's what we're here for. You deserve it. Simply enjoy, save and share with your friends.
