

Not. Enough. Light.

The original lights that were installed in the Marina Bay Sands Singapore mall did not put out an adequate amount of light.

We were tasked with redesigning the light to have a better performance as well as an aesthetic that better fit the architecture of the building.

