EXHIBIT DESIGN

Trade show exhibits combine graphic design, architecture, and merchandising to create an experience that attracts clients on the show floor and continues to inspire them after they leave.

Represented here are a 2500 sq ft booth (above) using recycled properties to create a brand new image for a different client and (below) a new 14,000 sq ft custom exhibit designed to use the client's products (plastics) as its construction and finish materials.
