

Other Works

Job
1898

Coulour Lithograph

Mucha made two advertising posters for Job cigarette papers, both of which feature a woman holding a cigarette whose smoke winds round her head. In both posters Mucha places the central female figure against a background featuring Job monograms. Both posters are notable for the arabesques formed by the curves and swirls of the woman's exaggeratedly abundant hair, a feature which was much commented on and copied at the time.