

Scraps of metal appear as a central mass in this image. However, upon close inspection a female motif denoting Venus or the Roman goddess of love emerges to its right. Surrounding this symbol is the representation of a Dove or the bird of peace. The amalgamation of iron and steel against the suggestive feminine crest and sign of peace inspire notions of love, life, and their hard realities.

*The Dove
that represents equality
for women*