PERSONAL STATEMENT

To design spaces that will both inspire and enhance the quality of life for others.

My interest in design and creative pursuits has always been an important part of my life. In High School I won awards for my artwork and was encouraged to pursue a career in art. While studying Interior Design at the University of Minnesota – Twin Cities, I was able gain an insightful perspective into the career of an Interior Designer with a high-end residential design firm where I spent several years assisting designers with remodel and new construction projects.

My passion for interior design was further piqued while studying abroad in Paris, France. After being exposed to numerous interesting and significant architectural structures, I knew I wanted to enter the field and design spaces that would both inspire and enhance the quality of life for others.

Upon completion of my internship I was able to obtain the position as a Designer with a contract furniture dealer in Phoenix, AZ. Eight years of experience in residential and commercial design have taught me how to build strong relationships with clients and to grow as a part of a team in a professional environment.

My strength is in design. My sense of what good design is – proportion, color, form, texture, etc. is firm. I am continually researching and analyzing structures and interior spaces to determine what contributes to their visual and spatial appeal. I am also capable of coming up with a variety of approaches and solutions to a single design problem.

The prospect of transforming my design ideas into living spaces is an exciting challenge that I look forward to.
