Do you think it's important to support new talents?

Hi Guys.

I'm trying to get a chance as an intern in the TBWA Office in Berlin/Germany.

I'm already in contact with the person who is in charge for this position.

Her name is Annett Hausmann in Düsseldorf (annett.hausmann@tbwa.de)

But I really want to work for TBWA cause I'm a big fan of the work from Erik, Gerry and Lee and the other countless guys who do great work at TBWA.

So I come up with the idea to collect some quotes from you to convince her.

Kind of "Make them an end before he's annoying us to death and give him a chance" or something like that would be great.

You don't know me and probably you got no time for such nonsense.

But I really hope you like my idea and give me some backup for this.

So, I'm looking forward to get any signs from you

I wish you a nice stopover if you're in Cannes right now.
