Once upon a time,

there was a little boy named Beston-Weston.
He lived with his mommy and daddy in a warm, comfortable house.

Beston just happened to be a very blessed little boy. Everyone loved him; his mommy and daddy, his grandparens, aunts and uncles, and friends all loved him very much...and Beston loved them all right back.

At his house, there were lots of toys that he liked to play with, but his very favorite toys were something quite unusual. Beston had a truck JUST HIS SIZE! And he had a tractor with a trailer, and a four-wheeler, and a motorcycle that were just his size too! And he could drive every one of them.

Beston was indeed, a VERY blessed little boy.
