

A Northwest Classic

So fresh you'll know we just picked them. Juicy, naturally sweet raspberries...and they're here right now at Haggen! We sell locally grown Tulameen raspberries from Boxx Berry Farms—the largest, most flavorful berries around. Known for their high sugar content, these berries are great for making tasty jam or fantastic all by themselves! But, Tulameen raspberries won't be here long. So stop by your neighborhood Haggen today—before this classic Northwest favorite vanishes for another year!
