CURRENT PAC STATUS:

As of June 30, PCA PAC has brought in a total of $37,095 in 2014, more than one-third of the way to its annual goal of $100,000. Despite this being a significant election year, 2014 donations are less than they were at this point in 2013. With November's election on the horizon, third quarter fundraising will be crucial to the success of PCA PAC. In the second quarter, PCA PAC contributed $23,500 to federal House and Senate candidates, while hosting fundraising events for Reps. Rodney Davis (R-IL) and Nick Rahall (D-WV).

HARD FACTS

This election cycle, Republican incumbents have faced strong challenges from the GOP's Tea Party faction. Here's a rundown of the key GOP primary battles:

ESTABLISHMENT VICTORIES:

- * Rep. Mike Simpson (ID)
- * Rep. Bill Shuster (PA)
- * Sen. Mitch McConnell (KY)
- * Rep. Greg Walden (OR)
- * Rep. Richard Hanna (NY)
- * Sen. Thad Cochran (MS)

TEA PARTY UPSETS:

- Rep. Eric Cantor (VA)

Rep. Jack Kingston will face businessman David Perdue in a Georgia GOP Senate primary run-off, scheduled for July 22

Tea Party favorite Ben Sasse coasted to victory in the Nebraska GOP Senate primary

RACE TO WATCH

Some analysts believe the race for Senate in the Pelican State may determine which party controls the chamber in 2015. Incumbent Sen. Mary Landrieu (D-LA) will face Rep. Bill Cassidy (R-LA) on November 4, with the possibility of a December 6 runoff. According to Cook Political Report, neither candidate is polling above 50 percent. However, the state continues to lean right with the GOP holding Louisiana's other Senate seat, 5 out of 6 congressional districts, and the Governor's mansion.

PCA PAC 2014

A NOTE FROM FRANK CRADDOCK

With election season underway, the PCA Government Affairs team is hard at work advocating for your interests on Capitol Hill, gaining more support for the continued funding of transportation and infrastructure, and responsible approaches to government regulations. While the political atmosphere may be changing in DC, PCA remains dedicated to creating and maintaining relationships with all members, in both the House and Senate, Democrats and Republicans.

In the lead up to the November midterm elections, your support of PCA's PAC will be crucial. Given the recent economic climate, a Republican House and Senate are increasingly likely for the 114th Congress, meaning more efforts will be made to decide the fate of key legislation. Whether working to support funding of the Highway Trust Fund or to promote the use of resilient construction techniques, PCA PAC enables your trade association to turn relationships into partnership tools that drive the success of our efforts in matters relating to energy, climate, infrastructure, and transportation.

By supporting the re-election of our allies, you allow PCA to clearly communicate the interests of the cement manufacturing industry to members on Capitol Hill. Thank you to those who have already supported the PAC this year. You have helped develop our relationships with allies like Rep. Rodney Davis (R-IL) and Rep. Nick Rahall (D-WV), both of whom continue to advocate for our industry as key members of the Transportation & Infrastructure Committee.

We look forward to the November elections and will continue to update you on the success of the PAC throughout the year as we work to reach our goal of $100,000.

Sincerely,
