

Living off landfill Kit

Low cost, sustainable product. Designed in line with Oxfam's brand philosophy, including branding printed onto the kit.

The "living off landfill" kit consists of coated brown paper to use as non-stick protection when melting the plastic bags.

The kit aims to enhance the individuals creativity, as well as their entrepreneurial spirit to encourage them to develop their skills away from the landfill site.

Pictorial instructions ensure the individual is able to follow in case of a language barrier. The kit also contains a printed template of the constituent parts.

Small, easily transportable and can be supplied to the user in a small roll.

The "Living off Landfill" chair was designed to educate the individual on folding techniques for adding strength to a product, such as origami, and joining methods.
