

Photography.

My passion for photography began in high school, when I was asked to take photographs of the gigs we were arranging for ourselves. Since then, my camera has never been far from my side.

