

Sally finishes cooking her family's meal...

And everyone enjoys dinner together.

The recipe is displayed on the countertop surface. As Sally compiles her ingredients, she sets them on the surface and selects each ingredient in the recipe as it is set down. Ingredients are then weighed and visually cut into portions or blocked out in red to indicate too much.

As Sally begins to cook she can click which step she is currently on and it highlights which step she is currently on and it highlights which ingredients are needed for that step.
