The preliminary work for this project was to select five descriptive words that would describe the client as well as the space. The words that I choose for this client, who is in the music industry, was funky, bold, contemporary, intense and energetic.

I also wanted to design a space where the band would be able to practice and complete songs. This space will contain equipment for the band that will assist with writing and playing music. Another requirement, was to include an office space where the band could communicate effectively with their fans and agents. This space could also be used to organize their schedules.
