PERSPECTIVE OF ELEVATED SPACE
N.T.S.

The presentation of these materials were on foamcore boards. The elevations and floor plans were hand rendered with markers and colored pencils. The perspective pictured here was created with Sketch Up. This was one of the first big rendered projects that I had created.

I was also required to pick one space within this project and replace materials with sustainable materials and redesign the space to be wheelchair accessible. This required me to look at the ADA specifications and design the space to fit those needs.
