
This project needed to be sustainable requirements for a simple great room. I was required to create a materials board that contained sustainable fabrics and images for this space.

This was the first materials board that I created and would provide the foundation for how to put these types of components together.

There were several tangible materials that needed to be adhered to the board itself, this was a task in itself.