{Problem}

There is a lack of unity between the cultural and historical values within the Cleveland community, and the public spaces in which they encompass.

{Initial Objectives}

To create a public space that is not only inviting to the public, but also has a strong underlying theme the carries through in bringing the community together, as well as educates the public on the cities unique heritage. Also, on both financial and interpersonal levels, the need for growth within the community is paramount.