The Brand

D&AD NEW BLOOD AWARDS 2014

I competed for D&AD to redesign Purdey drink for a new healthy range.

The Moo

How can the packaging develop as the consequence of adding another variety to the range?

-packaging that was developed to protect its functionality (the silver wrap shields the drink's light-sensitive botanicals)

so your packaging must be opaque

I did a mood board to break down the requirements and show examples of packaging that are on the drink as a way to maybe draw inspirations.

dbaord

Don't be limited by what health drink/soft drink packaging is "supposed" to be.

retain the individuality of the brand

Consider a packaging solution that breaks category conventions to truly stand out on the shelf.
