

Corrugated Shipper

The secondary package is a corrugated shipping box that houses 24 bottles. Divider sleeves, made from recycled chipboard (cardstock), are used to separate the bottles so that there is limited vibration resonance and to stop contact between bottles to prevent damage to the labels or bottles. The case and dividers weigh approximately 1.75 pounds and with the 24 filled bottles has a net weight of 31 pounds.

