

New symbols created for packaging

Xenomorph
Free Quadrant

The Alien silhouette is inspired from the promotional artwork for Aliens

The universal no (circle-backslash) symbol crosses out the Alien pictograph and follows the Aliens spacecraft iconography

The smooth frontal dome is indicative of the common xenomorph drone as opposed the other forms of their life-cycle.

A Warrior can have a smooth and ridged dome but a Drone can only have a smooth dome.

Alien Stompers
Required

The Alien Stomper worn by Ripley is shown as a simplified icon

The energy emitted from the stomp is shown in the negative space, cutting through the border in a similar fashion to the exhaust icon

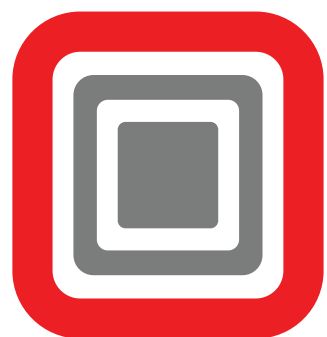

The stomp is emphasized with a pop of yellow used to show energy in a few of the logos

Alien stompers were issued to Weyland-Yutani employees (Ripley, android Bishop)

Additional symbols used on the packaging

Pressurized w/
Artificial Gravity

Storage

Artificial Gravity
Absent

Symbols used throughout the Aliens universe

Reference imagery

