Timbuk2 is a bag company based in San Francisco. It prides itself on quality products, often made in the United States.

The Folding chair should reflect the motifs of tri-bands, clips, fabrics, and overall aesthetic. Since, their products often have a waterproof option the chair should have this option as well. Timbuk2 bags are often marketed to bicyclists, a fact that should be kept in mind while designing. The chair should fold small enough to fit into a Timbuk2 bag, ensuring portability and relevance to already existing products.
