To help them quickly respond to continuing threats and avert the risk of other companies filing similar or confusing marks.

Minimize brand risk, without any financial risk.

Maybe you've been putting off trying Watch, but now is a great time to see for yourself exactly what it can do for your brand protection strategy.

Not only are we offering you our complimentary Top Five Reasons to Watch download to the right, but for a limited time, you can also try Watch for free.

"We not only watch trademarks which may be too similar to our rights but also word patterns and trends in trade marks. The Watch service Thomson CompuMark provides us is accurate and reliable and watching trends and patterns helps us to establish what might be acceptable, might be considered generic and can save us money on our filing and searching strategies."
