

CHOSEN INITIAL IDEA

Motion sensor light- Foot steps set off the sensor which lights up footpath in direction of travel. It is possible for the light to shine in both directions so dependant on which way the user is walking down the footpath.

The design offers a sleek profile to the ground but still provides adequate light for the user to see the footpath. The waffle light system allows light to shine through in different direction depending on which way the user is walking.

