

Vita

With natural disaster becoming more of an issue in the modern world. More and more areas are being devastated, leaving people without access to necessities such as food, shelter and water. With no way to stop natural disasters from happening, a revised system needs to be developed to help alleviate suffering victims. Vita has been developed specifically for this by creating a more efficient process to supplying food, water and shelter to suffering areas.

