Pope John XXIII's Council (1962-64) put the Catholic Church on a different road, urging not condemnations but the "medicine of mercy." Pope Francis is reflecting the spirit of Pope John and Vatican II, returning Catholics and all people of good will to the simplicity and poverty of the core Gospel of Christ.

Father Norm Langenbrunner, ordained in 1970 for the Archdiocese of Cincinnati, has served as a high school religion teacher, associate pastor, and for 26 years as pastor. Currently he is preaching parish mission across the country, writing homily helps for Franciscan Media, teaching catechetical courses, and serving as a judge on the archdiocesan marriage tribunal.
