

Allowing the lens to be in the same place each time makes the user confident, and eliminates error.