

Using the package drawing to check if humans fit into the vehicle, designing it around them so everything is comfortable and works at its best. The ergonome below is a 6"5 male and as you can see it will accomidate him.

