

Rendered Images

I went for a masculine scooter design for a young boy. The Device is mainly made out of Carbon Fibre, except for steel bolts and plastic/ rubber wheels, masculine colours were used such as a vibrant red for the feet area and a bright blue, with black used along the handles and the brake.

These drawings are the original sketches drawn out to drive the design of the childs scooter, so its not CAD driven.

