MARSOC Recruiting Ad: “Jungle Drop”

:30 Cinema Commercial

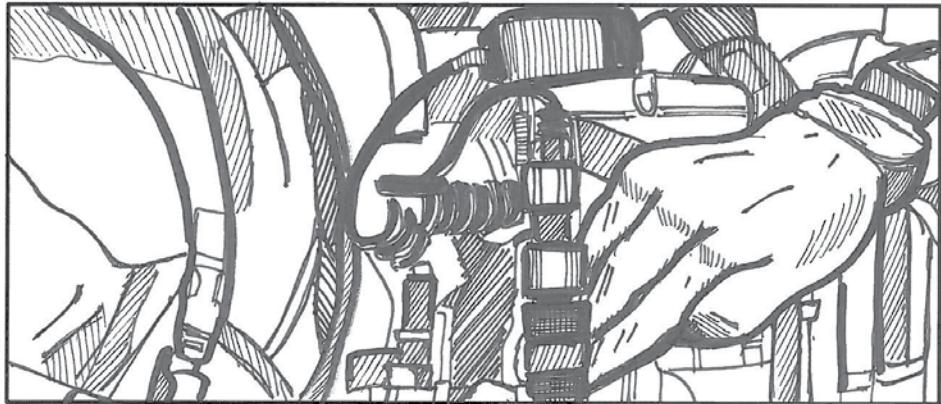

(Shot of the Jungle, SFX crunching noises, leaves rustling, etc. We can see that something is coming down through the trees but we can't actually see what it is)

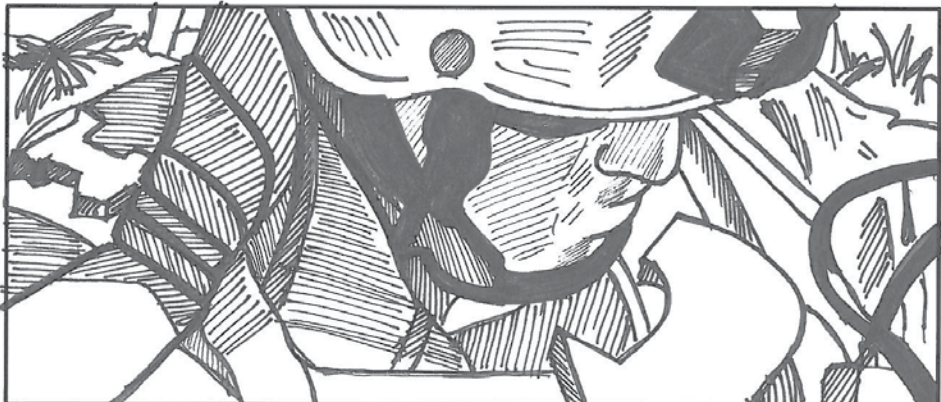

(Shot of MARSOC operator on the jungle floor, gathering up his parachute, opening his pack, etc.)

SUPER: Mentally trained for this.

(Tight shots of equipment being checked, strapped on, boots tied, etc., perhaps shot from the POV of the operator, SFX: jungle noises, operator's breath)

SUPER: Physically conditioned for this.

SUPER: But most importantly

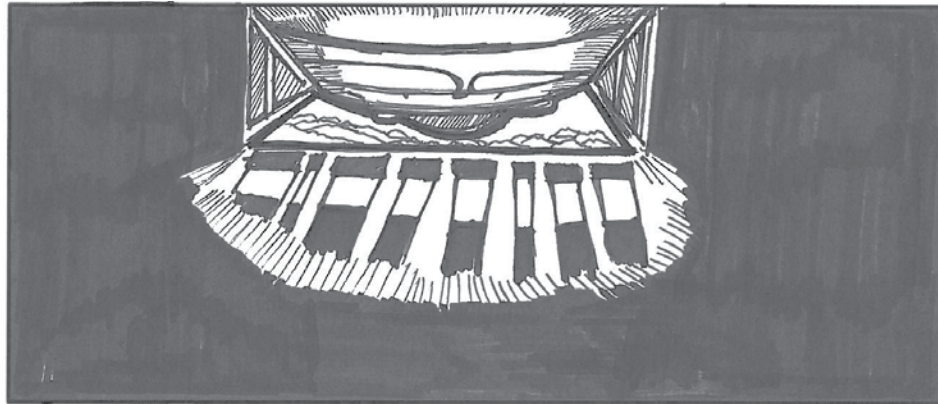

SUPER: born for this.

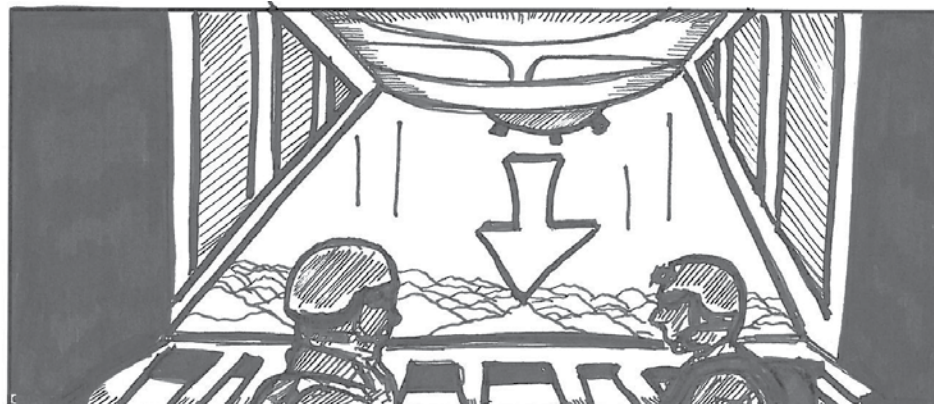

SUPER: Today will be different.

(Ambient noise, voices, etc. & SFX throughout)
(Shots of Osprey bay doors opening, revealing open sky)

(Shots of operators inside Osprey in flight, last minute preparations, sitting calmly)

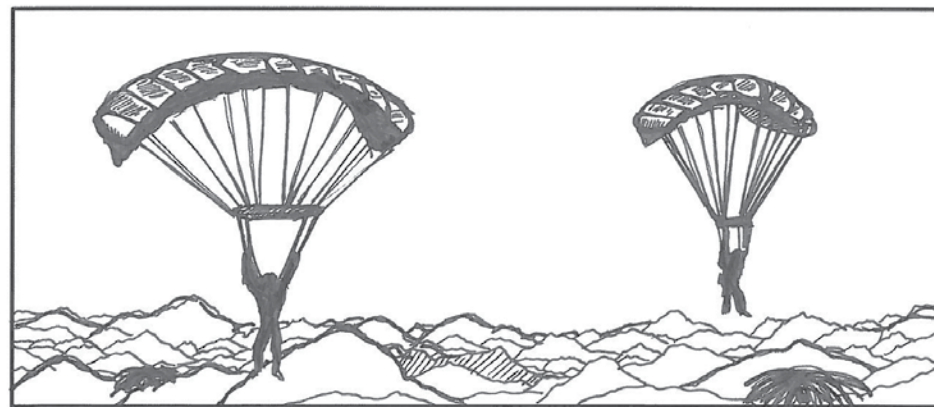

VO: Prepare yourself.

VO: Today will be a day unlike any other.
(Cut to POV shot of operator running toward and jumping out of the bay)

(Cut to POV mid-air, seeing arms in foreground, other operators in mid air, mountains or jungle below)

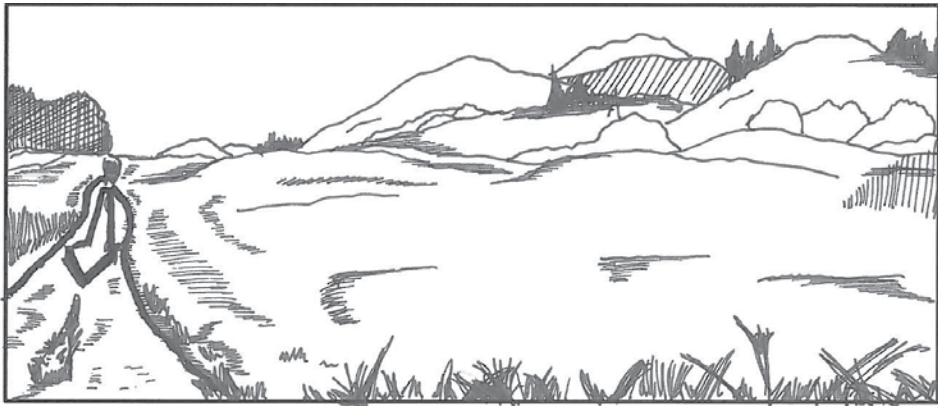

(In the end we only hear the SFX of wind, flapping sounds, etc.)

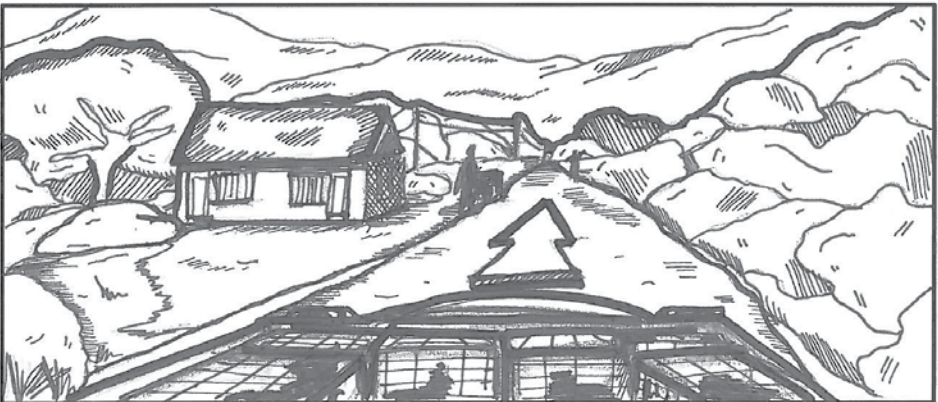

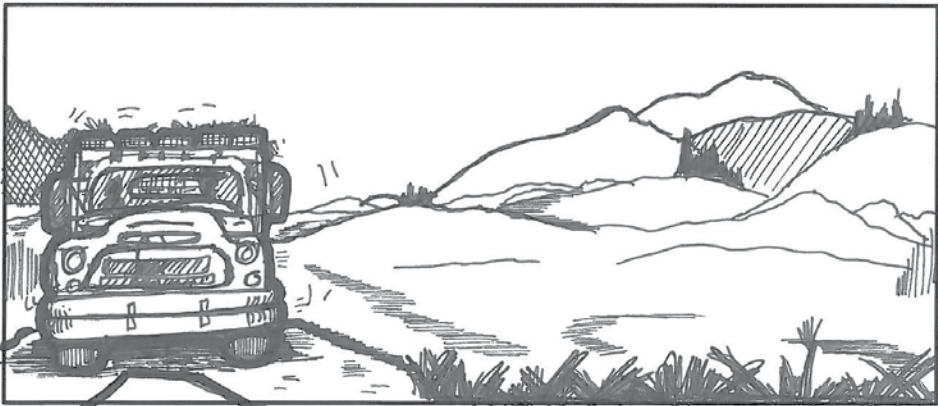

SUPER: Today will be different.

MARSOC Recruiting Ad: “Low-Visibility Infiltration”

:30 Cinema Commercial

(Open on a dirt road in Central America. An old wood-panel truck is bouncing down the road.)

(Move in to tight shots of the back. We see the truck is carrying chickens in cages.)

(Slowly pan down the row of chickens to reveal a MARSOC operator with his gear, hidden in the back of the truck. He’s very still, stoic among the noisy chickens.)

(Cut back to wider shot of truck moving away down the road. Hold on this shot)

SUPER: Today will be different.
