History

information

This is an image of a typical cadet, smartly dressed and having a good time.

This image demonstrates one of the many available opportunities and the most favoured; shooting a rifle!

This image shows the honour and pride in being a cadet. Parading through towns & villages to show support and respect for the cause.

Army Cadet Force Site:

Here are some images of army cadets. These include on marches and also using rifles!

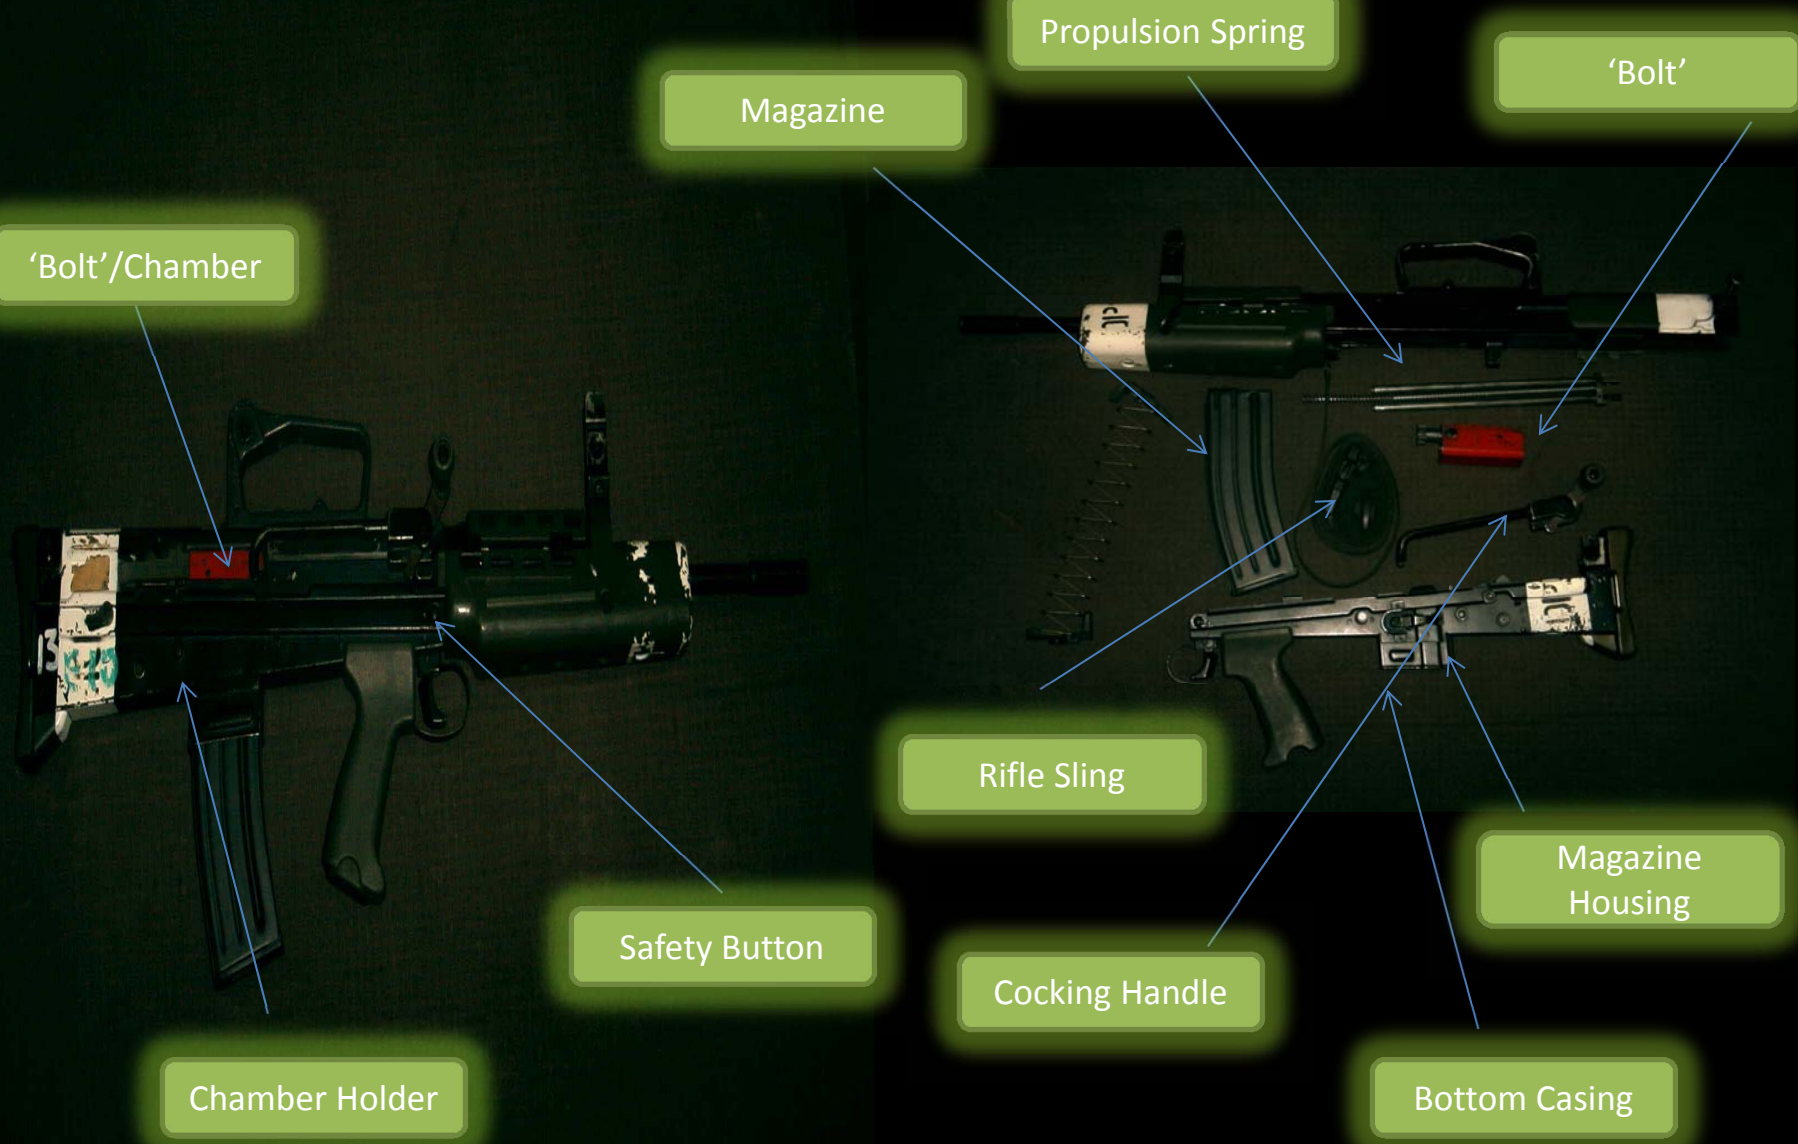

This shows an image of an army cadet earning money for the poppy cause. This is very important to cadets because we are sponsored by serving soldiers and the poppy's sponsor the soldiers families. EVERY year cadets parade around the globe in order to show their respect for the soldiers serving.

This is an image of a "GP" rifle. These weapons are currently being used in the army but army cadets are also trained on them. These guns have many parts which I will explain here.

This is the rank of Lance corporal and is the 1st rank a cadet can earn. This shows a position of power, the requirement is Passed APC 1 Star.

This is the rank of corporal, it may seem less than lance corporal however it is actually ahead, the requirements are Passed APC 2 Star.

This is the rank of sergeant and it is rare to find a cadet with this rank, however the requirement only is Passed APC 4 Star.

This is the rank of staff sergeant, this is even rarer than the other and is odd. The requirement is Passed APC 3 Star.

This is the rank of regimental sergeant major, it has NEVER been given to a cadet and can only be given to an adult member.

This is the rank of cadet under officer, this is a very hard rank to gain and is one of the most rarest awarded to a cadet, to get this a cadet must have shown an exceptional level of inferiority to other cadets in order to be picked.

The army cadet force was first set up in 1869 by a woman named Octavia Hill. She created the army cadets because at the time there was a pending invasion from Spain however the British soldiers were currently based abroad fighting. She started training them with government funding in all aspects of field craft and marching to make an obedient & loyal cadet.

After the threat of invasion from the Spanish was over the army cadet force was deemed un-needed and so forth was disbanded due to lack of funds from the military of defence. For approximately 20 years. After this however Octavia once again asked for funding and it was granted, as well as this however a new function was started. The new function was a form of cadets in school; it was compulsory to either choose army cadets, air cadets or sea cadets and once started you wasn't allowed to change what one you wished to do, you had to stick to it!

Due to students not enjoying the use of this way they was ordered to disband in schools and army cadet force would be the only service that done this. The typical cadet wear at the time was supplied and it would be a basic shirt so that the rich and poor wasn't separated when they was all out.

Later in the 1970's women were permitted to join the army cadet force, previously it had been thought that they weren't for soldiering however due to equality between men and women and the fact they are just as able, they were permitted to join.

In 2009/2010 the army cadet force celebrated their 150th anniversary.
