Congratulations, you're going to college! Now, how are you going to pay for it? This checklist will help you and your parents get off on the right track.

- ☒ Complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA): Colleges and universities use the information supplied on the FAFSA to determine your eligibility for grants, scholarships, work-study awards and federal student loans. File online at fafsa.ed.gov.
- ☒ Find free money: Maximize free money, such as grants and scholarships, because this is money you don't have to pay back. Grants and scholarships can be found through resources such as fastweb.com, grants.gov, scholarships.com and studentscholarshipsearch.com.
- ☒ More than you can afford? After totaling your free money, use a student loan calculator to estimate whether you need additional funding.
- ☒ If you need loans: Consider federal student loan options, including Perkins, Stafford and PLUS loans.
- ☒ Explore private student loans: These loans complement federal student loans and are designed to pick up where grants, scholarships, federal student loans and other types of financial aid leave off.
