"The quality of learning has been exceptional and the faculty and staff have been outstanding influences on my life in supporting me and encouraging me to excel in my studies and achieve my goals."

- SSgt Charles M. Applied Management Graduate. Currently pursuing his MBA

"While staring at life after the Air Force, it was very apparent that a college degree is a must to be competitive in the job market. Back to school I went and I never looked back. I think "wow" sums it up nicely."

- Information Technology Graduate: SMSgt Chuck B.

NATIONAL AMERICAN UNIVERSITY

Higher Education for Today's Military Families

Arm yourself with the power of a degree!

Our philosophy is that we are in the people improvement business. We educate them, care about them and treat them fairly. They gain career and personal skills, learn to succeed and become leaders.

Since 1941, we've helped people get the education they need for the career and lifestyle they want.

Programs for today's in-demand careers:

- Allied Health
- Business
- Criminal Justice
- Healthcare Management
- Information Technology
- Management

Diploma, Associate, Bachelor and Master's degree programs available. Talk to your admissions representative about the specific degree programs offered at your campus of choice.

NAU Faculty

We prepare our students for rewarding careers just out of college by employing highly qualified instructors who have actively worked in the fields in which they teach, offering their "real-world experience" perspective.

Quality higher education in a caring and supportive learning environment

Since
1941

NAU's Military Duty

Reduced Tuition

NAU appreciates the sacrifices you make. As a way to support our military, NAU offers a reduced tuition rate to all who carry an unexpired US Uniformed Services ID Card, including active duty, veterans, retired and family members.

With the reduced rate of $166.66 per credit hour, plus your military benefits, you can earn your undergraduate degree for little or no cost. NAU also waives technology and instructional manual fees.

ACE Credit Assessment

NAU works with the American Council on Education (ACE) so you can assure yourself the quickest path to a degree and full credit for your military education. ACE assesses the educational value of your military training and experience, including military schools, correspondence courses, and occupations to determine the amount of and level of academic credit each should be awarded. Through ACE, you can get academic credit for most of the training you have received, including basic training.

Cooperation

NAU makes getting your education easy by understanding your military benefits and by partnering with military organizations when possible.

- Military benefits accepted: MTA, GI Bill, Post 9/11 GI Bill, Top Up, spouse tuition programs, and others
- Member of the Yellow Ribbon Program
- Active participant of DANTES
- SOC member
- Unique partnership with the USAF Air University
- Approved by the Veterans Administration

The NAU Advantage

Flexibility

NAU offers classes on-ground at a local campus, online, or the blended-model which is a combination of both. This structure allows you the flexibility to continue earning your degree from NAU while deployed or when transferred. Online courses allow you to work school around your life. Classes can be accessed 24/7 anywhere internet service is available.

Special Attention

- Tutoring is available both online and at the on-ground campus.
- Expect our instructors to respond to you within 24 hours or less
- Group discussions are employed so as to foster class interaction and a sense of community with your classmates
- Every student is assigned a personal student advisor who is available M-F to ensure your success and degree completion

Inverted Curriculum

NAU offers an inverted curriculum format that allows you to get started in your major during your first year so you won't have to wait the typical two years to get immersed into the courses that interest you the most.

Accreditation

- Accredited by the commission of Higher Learning and member of the North Central Association of colleges and Schools (NCA).
- Several of NAU's programs are separately accredited or approved by national educational and professional associations.
- One of the first universities in the United States to receive NCA approval to offer full degree programs online.
