

Pivot; a modular work unit in wood & metal

This racking system allows you to organize items and can also divide a living or work space. The racks are easy to assemble and take on a variety of configurations. The system is free-standing, independent of external support. The racks are portable, and the system is easily assembled in any desired configuration in a fixed place. The configurations can be situated in any plan, in any size living space; against a wall, as a room divider, or in a corner.

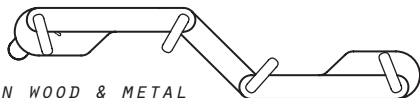

The pieces include two lengths of shelves, a desk table top, and the option of cabinets. The units pivot around central steel tubes, and are fixed at desired heights by locking a steel ring with a pin, allowing the shelf to rest. The tubes are capped with a flat lamp, and can carry a set of drawers under the desk. The units can pivot to any desired angle and configuration.
