Design Development

Making it user friendly

Humanitarian disasters are a worldwide problem. The sterilizer could be deployed to almost any country on the globe.

With so many languages and cultures, it needs to be understood by anyone.

Because of this, the user instructions are pictorial and embossed into the metal body.

The safety warning is shown as a universal icon, for increased safety, text of the most common languages are also used.

