Two versions of an end cap made in Sketch Up. In order to increase product space using the same footprint the 3 walls were pushed inward. It would be useful for small hanging blister packs or it could be configured for sunglasses.