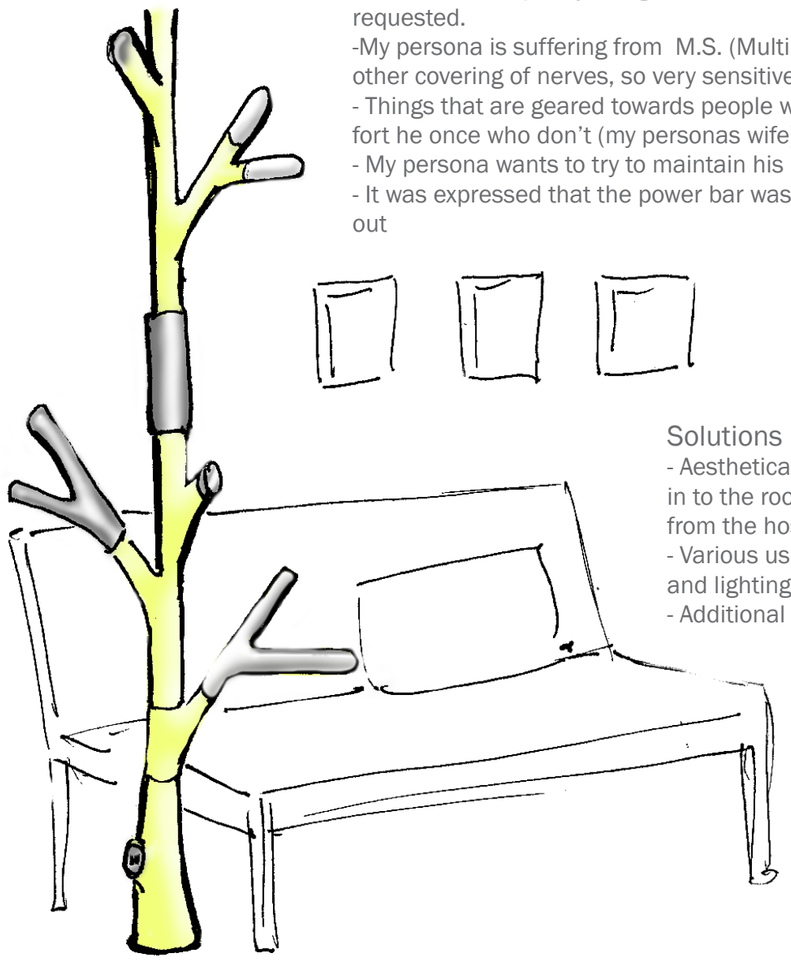
Problems

- Super poles are used to aid getting in and out of chairs, beds est. They have only one use with almost no additional attachments, forcing users to make their own poorly designed ones. Also, an addition of a bar was requested.
-My persona is suffering from M.S. (Multiple Sclerosis) which affects other covering of nerves, so very sensitive to temperature.
- Things that are geared towards people with disabilities don't really work fort he once who don't (my personas wife)
- My persona wants to try to maintain his independence as best they can
- It was expressed that the power bar was very medical looking and stood out



Solutions

- Aesthetically pleasing design that blends in to the room and doesn't look like it's from the hospital
- Various uses such as temperature control and lighting
- Additional grab bar on a higher level
