

OUR STORY

What if your customer's mobile phone disappears or a major appliance fails? Everyday setbacks can affect a consumer's peace of mind, rob them of financial confidence, and impair their ability to improve their daily lifestyle.

That's where we come in. At Fortegra, we understand that today's consumer requires a more comprehensive set of insurance products outside of the 'big four' of home, life, health and auto. It's why we've brought together the best of today's specialty insurance and warranty providers, supplying assistance to simplify lives, lessen risk, and grant consumers more freedom.

And as a vertically aligned, single source organization, Fortegra delivers multifaceted coverage with an unmatched service experience. By solving immediate needs and producing lasting relationships, we allow both our partners and customers to worry less and Experience More.
