

Dear Adam,

Did you know that recent graduates from the Lienhard School of Nursing earn over $70,000 a year? As you explore the opportunities open to you after high school, the field of nursing may be the right career path for you.

If you have a desire to help others, to make an impact in the world and to pursue a career as a highly skilled professional, we invite you to explore one of the top nursing schools in the country at Pace University.

What makes the Lienhard School of Nursing special?

- Lienhard nursing students start their first hands-on clinical experience a year earlier than in most other nursing programs
- That means when you graduate you will feel confident and ready to work in a hospital or a clinical setting

Do you also want to earn your Masters degree?

- Lienhard offers a Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) coupled with an optional Master of Science (MS) or Master of the Arts (MA)

Either way, you'll graduate with impressive credentials because you will be able to list clinical experience at Westchester Medical Center, The Mount Sinai Hospital Center, Northern Westchester Hospital, and/or the Visiting Nurse Service of New York on your very first résumé.

What about Financial Aid?

- Financial assistance can come from many places, including scholarships, grants, on-campus employment, and loans. Our goal is to offer every student as much financial assistance as possible

Your success is the primary goal of Lienhard's dedicated professors who will be there to support you every step of the way. Combined with the hands-on classroom learning and cutting edge technology, you will be ready to step into a fulfilling career in the ever-growing health care industry.

Want to know more? Contact us to schedule a visit to either (or both!) of our campuses—it's the best way to find out if Pace is right for you. To schedule a campus tour, go to www.pace.edu/explore.
