

is time my ideation process was more focused on where the products will be presented and how the people will move around the space.

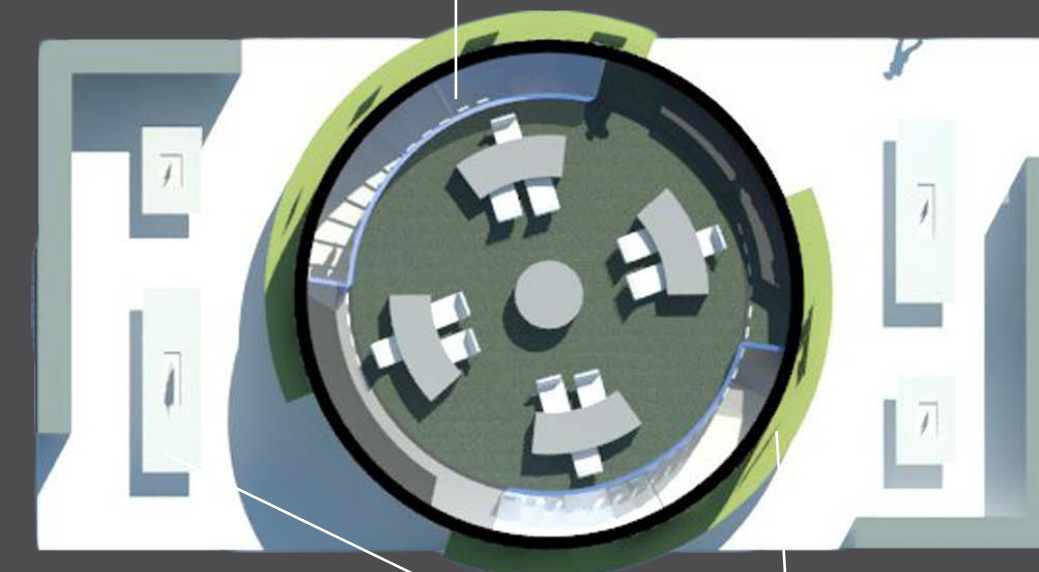

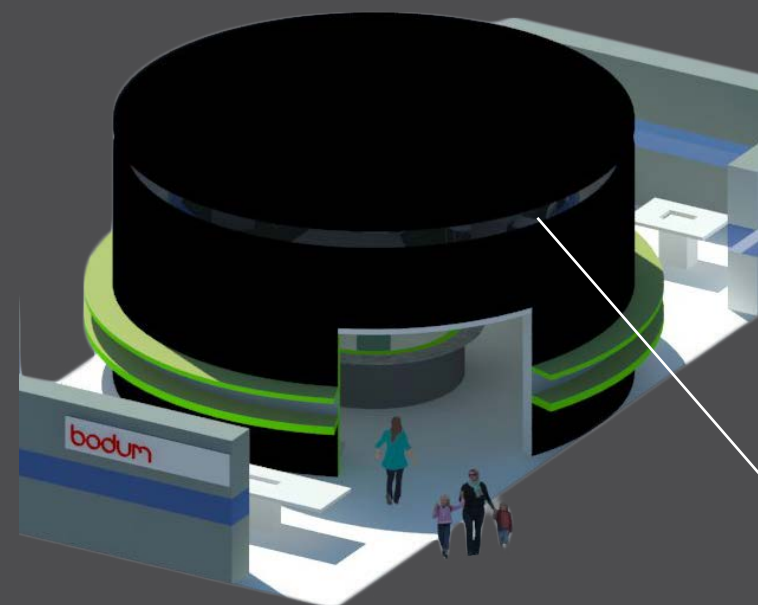

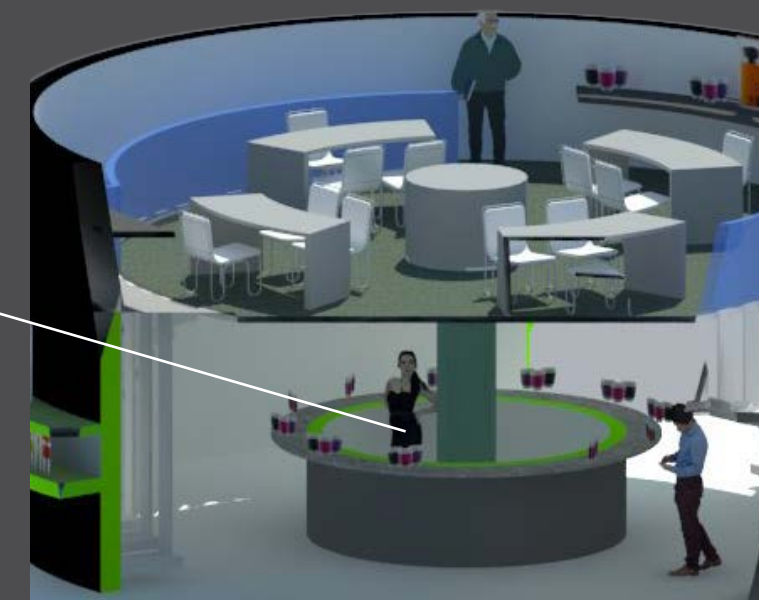

I wanted to create an intriguing space that would make people want to stay. The design had to be interesting and have unique features to attract people and ultimately increase the possibility of closing a deal.

Here we have the coffee/tea Bodum Bar where people can stay and enjoy a great cup of coffee while seeing how the products work.

These are the stairs that lead to the VIP room. This will be where the wholesale sales are made.

VIP Valcony view gap.

Product show case

VIP room

Inside the walls we have hidden compartments to put away all the extra equipment we have for the show.

