

“Transferring patients one lift at a time.”

objective

Research physical therapy and rehab situations for the elderly and identify opportunities that exist in the experience. After identifying where the opportunities lie, develop a product that benefits both the patient and caregiver.