

objective

Research an established company and develop a product that could exist outside the company's niche industry, while remaining true to the company's brand. Select a target market and determine the appropriate market positioning for the new product.

CAT Strategy

"Our work today helps our customers create a more sustainable world."