

BIKEJACK

GPS Bicycle Tracker

To create a device with GPS tracking and a connected phone app that greatly improves the chances of recovering your bicycle after the theft required plenty of user and observational research. Such a device, along with the traditional locks that are out on the market today, would provide extra insurance and help give peace of mind.

