

TUITION AND FEES

YOU'VE COME THIS FAR...

...And you'll only go further with a degree in healthcare from MCPHS. An MCPHS education is an investment in your future, one that will put you in an enviable position when you graduate. While here, our students learn in-demand training and skills in the rapidly growing healthcare field — in fact, many receive job offers before graduation. Additionally, MCPHS–Boston is in the heart of the Longwood Medical Area, surrounded by some of the most renowned hospitals, pharmaceutical research companies, and healthcare institutions in the world. And while the cost of any degree is something to consider, there are other numbers you'll want to keep in mind as you ponder a promising future in healthcare with MCPHS:

- 5 million new healthcare jobs are expected to be created by 2022. That's an increase of 29 percent. (U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics)
- More than 90 percent of MCPHS students receive financial assistance
- MCPHS is close to an industry-leading 90 percent first-year retention rate
- Each year, 5,000 new jobs open in the Longwood Medical Area
- According to U.S. News & World Report, 83 percent of recent MCPHS grads were repaying their student loans "at a faster rate than other college grads." (2010)
