What makes a box?

LEGACY. A diverse team of experienced packaging professionals and facilities fully equipped with the latest technology, including a state-of-the-art test lab, enables Mid-Atlantic Packaging to consistently produce superior corrugated solutions.

Adaptation. Innovation. Excellence.

We are committed to ensuring our clients receive full benefit of our years of experience in addressing each element of a particular project, start to finish.

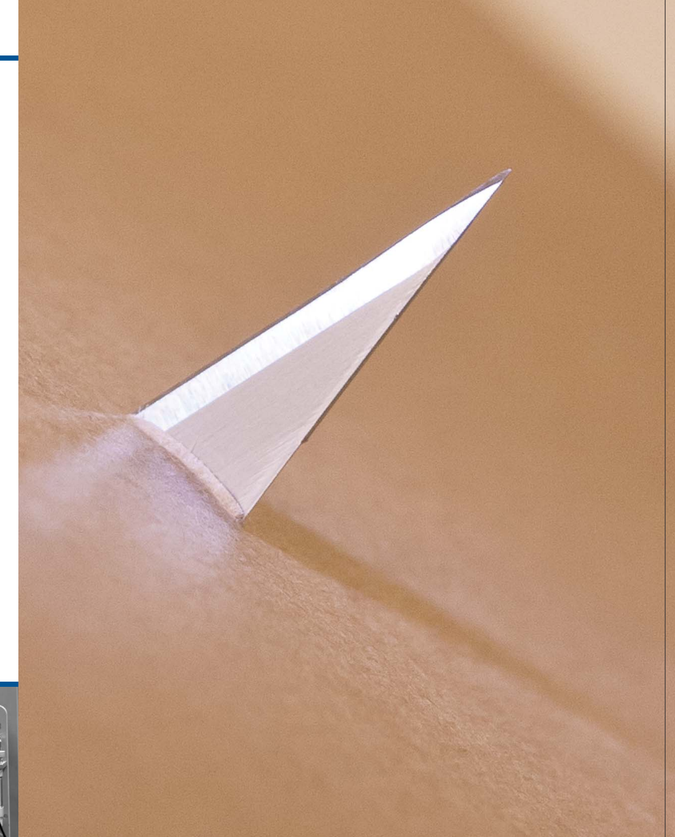

Ingenuity. Efficiency. Resourcefulness.

For the past 50 years, Mid-Atlantic Packaging has provided customized corrugated packaging solutions for the complex needs of our clients, big or small.

EFFICIENCY. Mid-Atlantic Packaging's smart designs, right-size packages and optimized materials use less fiber, reduce labor, and maximize pallet capacity with stronger cases while reducing cost and increasing revenue.

The source reduction in our designs also promotes sustainability with initiatives that began over a decade ago. Since then, Mid-Atlantic Packaging has taken thousands of tons of raw stock out of its conversion process while returning hundreds of thousands of dollars back to customers.

Our facilities are fully equipped with three specialty gluers, three 7-color rotary die cutters, one corrugator and two flexo folder gluers.

We believe that a crucial aspect of customer satisfaction is ensuring the resulting product not only exceeds industry standards, but can LAST. We qualify design decisions and durability of our products by testing in our in-house ISTA Certified testing lab.

Our independent ISTA Certified testing lab is fully equipped with a precision drop tester, an incline impact tester, vertical vibration table and a compression machine for package to pallet testing. We have the capability to test package performance against real world challenges for a multitude of scenarios including potential issues in warehousing, handling or shipping. This has positioned Mid-Atlantic Packaging as an industry leader in quality assurance. All of our testing follows highly recognized standardized procedures established by ASTM, ISTA and TAPPI.

INTEGRITY. Since 1998, Mid-Atlantic Packaging has maintained its International Organization for Standardization (ISO) registration. With proven quality procedures actively in place, Mid-Atlantic Packaging consistently produces corrugated solutions that transcend the industry standard.

Our continuing goal is to push the boundaries of what has been established in our industry and constantly evolve and adapt to create new solutions for our clients. Our product quality has been documented as meeting and exceeding customers' needs by 99.8%.

What does this mean for your business? A quality corrugated solution catered to your specific needs without compromising cost, aesthetics, or structural integrity.

More than a sum of its parts.

Patented Containers

Currently, we hold 18 patented designs, including 13 U.S. and 5 international patents. These items were created not only with automation and ease of assembly in mind, but also to ensure our clients' satisfaction and material integrity and sustainability. For example, the Display-Ready* and Stretch and Slide designs utilize integrated covers and stacking features, respectively, enabling our clients to seamlessly automate and case-pack. Our focus on labor reduction not only ensures the satisfaction of our customers, but the end-user as well. On-Site Design Department Mid-Atlantic Packaging's in-house design department has won two consecutive POPAI Awards for their creative designing capabilities. Our design team has the ability to customize box designs to fit and display product for maxiumum visibility, durability and convenience.

INGENUITY. With a full range of customizable options and technologically advanced facilities, Mid-Atlantic Packaging can provide our clients with more than just a box.

- We believe and are committed to the notion that the packaging process can be simplified to reduce labor time and cost for our clients.
- We provide unconventional solutions.
- We consider the entirety of the packaging process.

Our diverse portfolio ranges from the quintessential brown box, to point-of-purchase displays and retail ready packaging. Our unconventional take on traditional packaging design ensures a high quality result for every project.
