

An architectural rendering of a modern, two-story villa. The building features a clean, white facade with large windows and a balcony. A prominent feature is a tall, vertical garden wall covered in lush green plants, positioned between the main building and a smaller structure. In the foreground, there is a swimming pool with blue mosaic tiles and a metal ladder. The pool is surrounded by a paved deck with green square accents. Various tropical plants and a trellis with climbing vines are also visible. The sky is a soft, hazy blue.
