

Obama For America

July

Connecting with Voters
Sign up to attend orientations and events where you'll learn important tools and techniques.

The training and preparations continue alongside activities promoting coordination between New York volunteers and PA volunteers.

This is a time to connect with voters by phone and send to volunteers to PA to meet with them face to face.

GOALS

- 1.) To increase the number of volunteers contacting PA voters by phone or in person.
- 2.) To persuade on-the-fence voters that the President is going to fight for them,

From now until election day, Upper Manhattan For Obama will be building our volunteer army to do the important work that is crucial to reelecting the President.

Mobilizing our Teams

Volunteer groups continue to grow and multiply. This is an opportunity to make sure our teams are in place and strong, and for people to step up to take on new responsibilities.

We need spirited on-the-ground organizers, phonebank coordinators, digital gurus, logistics managers, transportation planners, and organizers for any other set of tasks that come up.

Sept./Oct.

Go Mobilize!

One door, one phone call at a time, volunteers talk to voters. We do this on a regular basis and greatly increase the number of voters we contact each week

The goal is to help the campaign get closer to identifying who the President's voters are and who we need to talk to a few more times to win over

All Hands on Deck and GOTV!
(Get Out The Vote)

Now our volunteer efforts go super nova.

We identify voters who have committed to vote for the President. But not even the most motivated and energized campaign effort can reelect the President without voters showing up to the polls

Massive numbers of phone calls and door-to-door visits ensure that the President's supporters know where to vote, actually get out to vote, and encourage friends and fellow supporters to do the same.

Then we check off our goals:

- 1.) Winning Pennsylvania
- 2.) Winning up and down the ballot in Ny
- 3.) Winning big in NY State
DONE, DONE, AND DONE!
