Liz comes to the position with 14 years of sales and marketing experience and a member of the Sales and Marketing Leadership Team. Managing a franchise is a natural progression in her career, she says.

"I look at the Critical Care Franchise as an important growth platform for Ortho Biotech," Liz says. "It has a huge upside potential for our people and for Ortho Biotech from a business perspective. There are tremendous opportunities with our current products, PROCrit and SPORANOX, and with new products to come."

Liz is originally from Louisiana, although she's lived in the area since 1988. She is the
