

Relax, we're making sitting down healthier

Let's face it, we all sit around more than we should, whether it's at work, on the train or in front of the TV.

Scientific research has now shown that spending too much time sitting down can be bad for your health, even if you exercise regularly.

The Bioenergisier Electro Flex can help to reduce the unhealthy effects of sitting all day, such as stress and tiredness. It uses T.E.N.S technology to send low frequency electrical impulses through the pressure points in your feet. This relaxes you from the soles of your feet up. The compact design of the Electro Flex means you can experience all of the benefits while sitting at your desk, or at home.
