

I was commissioned to design a new collection: the Roamer Backpack and Sling Bag. The challenge was to create premium-level travel bags that meet the needs of modern travelers, while staying efficient and cost-conscious in production.

