

IBM University Relations is now IBM Global University Programs.

Explore more

We will continue to enable the educators and empower students with various initiatives such as IBM Academic Initiatives and IBM Skills Academy through our exclusive and intensive learning programs, which are now conglomerated under IBM Global university Programs across the world. Our relationship with the universities, professors and students will always remain intact. We will pursue to expand the resources and experiences offered to students which will prepare them for the careers of tomorrow.

Rest assured, everything remains the same except the name.

